Stalkers & Dreamers:

Don Juan had taught us sorcery as a pragmatic endeavor by means of which any of us can directly perceive energy. He had maintained that in order to perceive energy in such a fashion, we need freedom from our normal capacity to perceive.

It is a sorcerer's idea that the parameters of our normal perception have been imposed upon us as part of our socialization,

One aspect of these obligatory parameters is an interpretation system, which processes sensory data into meaningful units and renders the social order as a structure of interpretation.

Our normal functioning within the social order requires a blind and faithful adherence to all its precepts, none of which calls for the possibility of directly perceiving energy.

For example, don Juan maintained that it is possible to perceive human beings as fields of energy, like huge, oblong, whitish luminous eggs.

In order to accomplish the feat of heightening our perception, we need internal energy. Thus, the problem of making internal energy are those sorcerers who have the inherent facility to enter into states of heightened awareness by controlling their dreams. This facility is developed through training into an art: the art of dreaming.

Dreamers

Stalkers

on the other hand, are those sorcerers who have the innate facility to deal with facts and are capable of entering states of heightened awareness by manipulating and controlling their own behavior. Through sorcery training, this natural capability is turned into the art of stalking.

Although everybody in don Juan's party of sorcerers had a complete knowledge of both arts, they were arranged in one faction or the other

Ted Andrews Enchantment of the Faerie Realm;
Communicate with Nature Spirits and Elementals

The world still holds an ancient enchantment. It hints of journeys into unseen and unmapped domains. There was a time when the distances between our world and those we consider "imaginary" were no further than a bend in the road. Each cavern and hollow tree was a doorway to another world. Humans recognized life in all things. The streams sang and the winds whispered ancient words into the ears of whoever would listen. Every blade of grass and flower had a tale to tell. In the blink of an eye, one could explore worlds and seek out knowledge that enlightened life. Shadows were not just shadows and woods were not just trees and clouds were not just pretty. There was life and purpose in

KINGDOMS OF THE DIVINE

This is just one occult construct. There are many dimensions surrounding and interpenetrating the physical plane. With proper exercise and practice, we can learn to use our own energy systems to connect with the beings of these dimensions.

The Chakras as Disks

These vortexes are referred to as chakras on the universal/physical levels. All of Creation for all Cosmic Days is embodied within the 12 Creator Rays. They are "the Word," the Creator's "outward and inward breath," for Creation. You will notice that the Creator's inward breath is highly energized at this point in time.

Land on the Shore – words sung by Lady Maisery

Now my friends, our meeting is over,
Sisters we must part.

And if on Earth we meet no more
I'll keep you in my heart.

Chorus (repeated after each verse):

And we'll land on the shore

And we'll land on that shore

And we'll land on the shore

And be safe forevermore.

Now my friends, our meeting is over,
Brothers we must part.

And if on Earth we meet no more
I'll keep you in my heart.

Now my friends, our meeting is over,
Fathers we must part.

And if on Earth we meet no more
I'll keep you in my heart.
